

Polar Service Centers Acquire C&R Fleet Services, Expand in Southeast

Houston, TX – (August 1, 2019) – Polar Service Centers, the nation’s largest network of commercial parts and repair facilities for tank trailers and tank trucks, has acquired C&R Fleet Services of Griffin, Georgia. Founded in 1997, C&R is housed in a seven-bay facility on nearly 10 acres located approximately 40 minutes south of the Atlanta airport.

Using ASE-certified technicians, C&R has built an outstanding reputation for repair and maintenance on all classes of trucks, trailers and cargo tanks, with a special focus on propane. As a NITSA-registered final stage manufacturer, C&R builds trucks for a wide variety of custom applications, from service bodies to cranes or a complete propane bobtail. Under Polar Service Centers’ ownership, the facility’s capabilities will be expanded to include chemical, food-grade and petro tank trailers, as well.

“This strategic acquisition gives us an opportunity to better serve customers in the southeast region,” said Jerry Cignarella, President of Polar Service Centers. “C&R offered us an exceptional foundation to build upon, a solid business that will allow us to expand our services to more truck and cargo tank operators.”

“With the addition of C&R’s location, we have the capability to get critical, much-needed parts closer to our customers in the southeast region,” said David Clark, Vice President of Parts for Polar Service Centers. “We look forward to serving our customers in the Atlanta metro area and southern Georgia.”
